| 課程概述   | Description: This course is designed to help students improve the skills necessary to achieve a sufficient score on the TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language). We will spend a lot of time simply focusing on improving those skills, as well as some time looking at strategies for taking the test. We will continue to practice skills for both the iBT and the ITP (or paper-based test). We will probably spend equal time on these. Also, this semester we will spend more time discussing American culture, studying abroad and building vocabulary.  |

Students will also frequently work together on in-class assignments and discussion groups. While the class is fairly large, you will be asked to speak in groups a lot, so speak often and speak in English. This will affect your grade. There will be frequent in-class activities and homework from these texts each week. |
