課程概述	The Cross-Cultural Distance Learning (CCDL): International Career Path seeks to prepare students to become responsible and culturally-aware global players in professional international environments. The topics, skills, and concepts taught in this course are targeted to this end. This course is a joint course set up between STUST and Waseda University in Tokyo, Japan. All CCDL classes seek to enhance mutual understanding across East Asia by enabling students from different countries to engage in dialogue in order to share opinions and information with each other.
